

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 20, 2016: SEVERE STORM RISK

FORECAST FOR CENTRAL PENNSYLVANIA

PREPARED BY: MATT STEINBUGL

PREPARED: THURSDAY, OCTOBER 20, 2016 @930AM EDT

Important Note: Local Level briefings are designed to provide detailed weather information for those counties served by NWS State College only (highlighted above). Remember, this briefing contains static information gathered at the time the briefing was prepared. The latest forecasts and warnings should be obtained from www.weather.gov/statecollege.

/NWSStateCollege

/NWSStateCollege

@NWSStateCollege

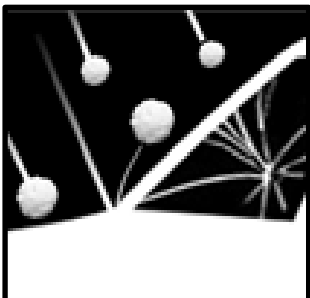

www.weather.gov/ctp

Severe Thunderstorm Risk: Thursday Afternoon-Thu. night

Threat/Risk Information

Damaging Wind
60+mph

Hail
≥1" diameter

Most Likely Timing

3:00pm – midnight

Impacts

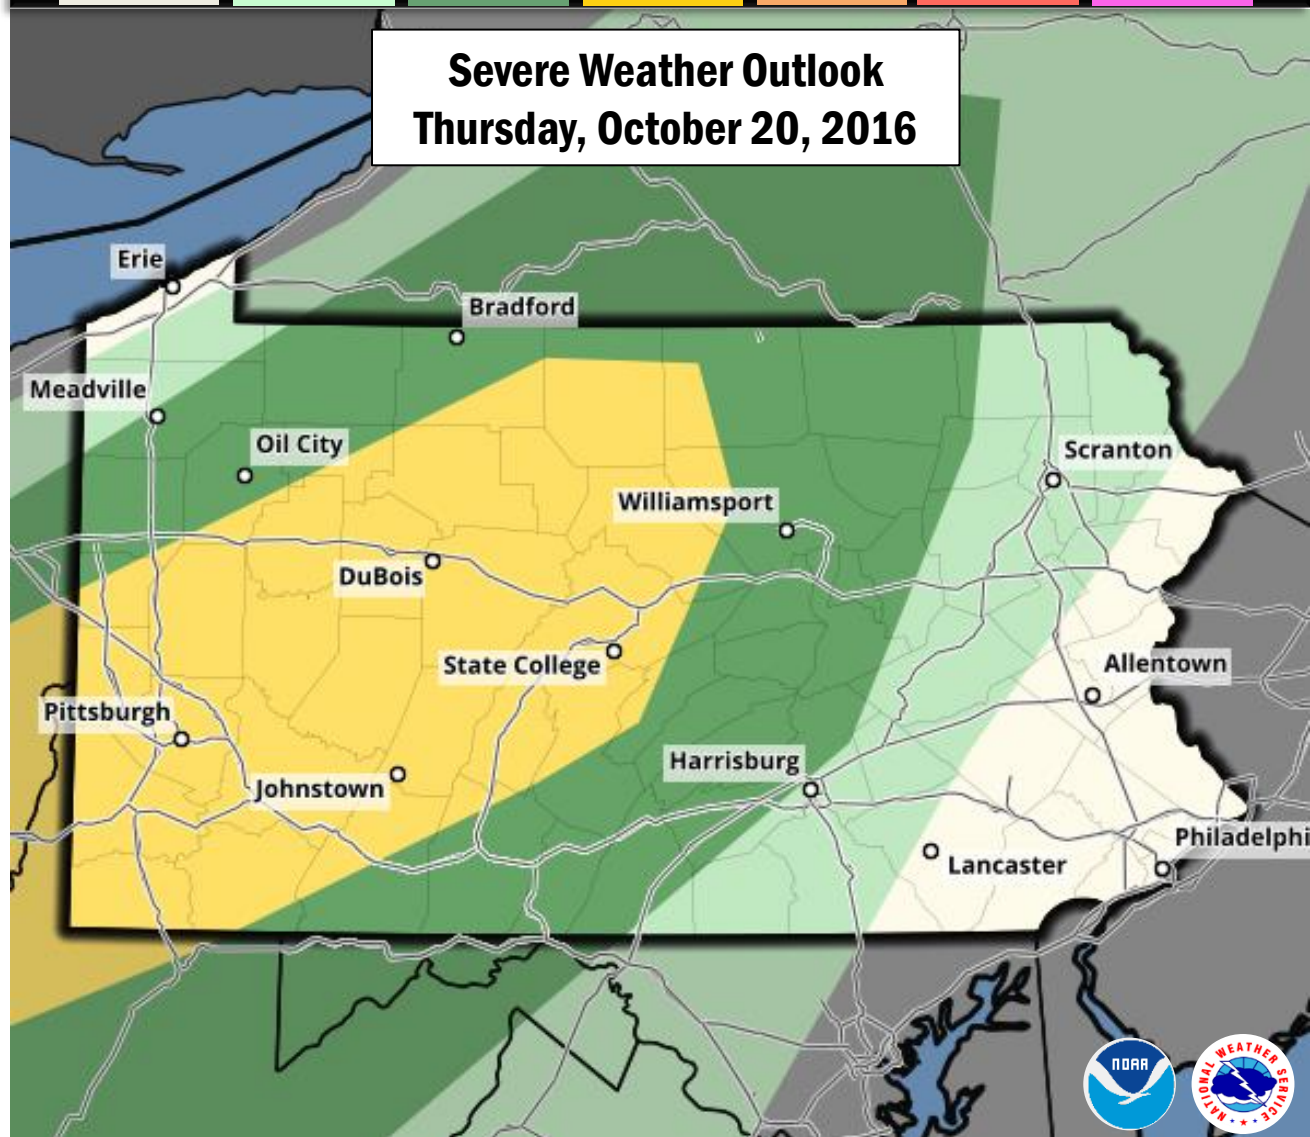

Downed Trees/Large Limbs
Isolated Power Outages
Outdoor Event Disruptions

Monitor updates at

weather.gov/StateCollege

NONE LOW 1 2 3 4 5 HIGH

Severe Weather Outlook
Thursday, October 20, 2016

/NWSStateCollege

/NWSStateCollege

@NWSStateCollege

October 20th, 2016 Event Summary

 OVERVIEW

Scattered severe thunderstorms are possible Thursday afternoon into Thursday night.

 WEATHER HAZARDS

The primary threats are damaging thunderstorm winds (60+mph) and hail (≥ 1 " diameter). A weak/brief tornado cannot be ruled out.

 TIMING

The most likely period for severe storms is 3pm to midnight.

 IMPACTS

Reports of wind damage and power outages are possible.
Outdoor events may be disrupted.

 PREPAREDNESS ACTIONS

Be aware of the risk for severe thunderstorms. Monitor local forecasts at weather.gov/ctp and follow our office on social media. Have multiple ways to get alerts.

/NWSSStateCollege

/NWSSStateCollege

@NWSSStateCollege

www.weather.gov/ctp